
INSPIRATION FOR TODAY
SOMEONE'S AT THE DOOR.
HE HAS NOT STOPPED KNOCKING.
Lord, I hear you. Keep knocking until I open.
Behold, I stand at the door and knock. If anyone hears my voice and opens the door, then I will come in to him, and will dine with him, and he with me.
REVELATION 3:20 (WEB)
prayertocarry.com

PRAYER TO CARRY TODAY

THE WEIGHT OF KEEPING QUIET

Some mornings you wake up already carrying something you haven't told anyone. Something you did or didn't do, a regret you haven't spoken about. Keeping it quiet seems safer, but it grows heavier the longer you hold it.

David knew that weight. In Psalm 32 he describes how his silence wore him down, and then what changed: "I said, I will confess my transgressions to the LORD, and you forgave the iniquity of my sin." Notice how closely the second half follows the first. Forgiveness wasn't something he had to earn after confessing. It met him as soon as he spoke.

PRAYER TO CARRY TODAY

This morning, before the day gets busy, tell God plainly what you've been holding. Use simple words; He already knows. Then receive His forgiveness, and step into the day lighter than you woke up.

PRAYER TO CARRY TODAY

SCRIPTURE

I said, I will confess my transgressions to the LORD, and you forgave the iniquity of my sin.

PSALM 32:5 (WEB)

A PRAYER FOR TODAY

Lord, I've kept You waiting at the door. Come in and sit at my table tonight; I want Your company more than I've let You see.