PRAYER TO CARRY TODAY

IT WASN'T MUCH. IT WAS LOVE.

Lord, I left what I had at their door. Teach me to love them the way I'd want to be loved.

"You shall love your neighbour as yourself."

THE SMALL THINGS COUNTED

At the end of a day it can feel as if nothing you did added up to much. A message answered, a door held, a meal shared, a moment of patience no one noticed. It's easy to let those slip past as though they don't count.

Jesus put loving your neighbour right beside loving God, and He measured it by something ordinary: the way you would want to be treated yourself. That isn't a bar of grand gestures. It's the everyday kindness you'd hope for on a hard day. Much of what you did today was exactly that, and God saw every bit of it.

Before bed, write two lines: one thing you did for someone today, and one thing someone did for you. Thank Him for both, and let them count.

A PRAYER FOR TODAY

Lord, it was only soup on a door handle, and I almost didn't count it. You saw it. Show me tomorrow's door, and I'll love whoever opens.
