PRAYER TO CARRY TODAY

WHATEVER TODAY WAS YOU'RE STILL HIS.

Lord, today didn't go how I meant it to. You still call me Your child. I'm coming in.

"See how great a love the Father has given to us, that we should be called children of God!"

PRAYER TO CARRY TODAY

CALLED IN AT THE END OF THE DAY

Maybe today got away from you. Plans slipped, words came out wrong, the hours disappeared. Now it's evening, and the list of what you meant to do is longer than the list of what you did.

Remember being called in at dusk as a kid? Nobody asked how well you'd played before they opened the door. Your name was called because you belonged inside. John writes about that kind of love: the Father has given it so that we're called His children (1 John 3:1). Not hired help reporting on the day. Children, called by name, with the door already open.

Before you go to bed, take a scrap of paper and write down one thing from today you're glad about, the way a child would tell it at the table: plainly, with nothing to prove. Leave it where you'll see it in the morning.

A PRAYER FOR TODAY

Lord, I'm muddy and tired from today, but Your door is open and the light is on. Father, thank You that I still belong.
