PRAYER TO CARRY TODAY

IT'S BEHIND YOU.
FARTHER THAN YOU CAN SEE.

Lord, I'm watching today go under the horizon. Everything I got wrong, You have removed that far from me. Let me watch it go.

"For as the heavens are high above the earth, so great is his loving kindness towards those who fear him. As far as the east is from the west, so far has he removed our transgressions from us."

OUT OF SIGHT

At the end of the day it's easy to sit with the replay: the thing you said too sharply, the call you didn't return, the moment you weren't who you wanted to be. You go back over it, as if looking at it long enough could fix it.

Psalm 103 doesn't ask you to keep looking. It measures His loving kindness against the height of the sky, then says how far He has taken your wrongs: “As far as the east is from the west, so far has he removed our transgressions from us” (Psalm 103:12). East and west never meet. However far you travel, you can't bring them back.

Before you sleep, write down the one thing from today that bothers you most. Tell God about it honestly, then tear the page up and throw it away. Let it stay where He put it.

SCRIPTURE

For as the heavens are high above the earth, so great is his loving kindness towards those who fear him. As far as the east is from the west, so far has he removed our transgressions from us.

A PRAYER FOR TODAY

Lord, I keep going over what I got wrong today. Your loving kindness is higher than this whole sky. Hold me now, and let me rest.
