PRAYER TO CARRY TODAY

HE RELEASED YOU. NOW RELEASE THEM.

Lord, You forgave every debt I had. Today I forgive, and let go.

"Forgive us our debts, as we also forgive our debtors."

MATTHEW 6:12 WEB

prayertocarry.com

PRAYER TO CARRY TODAY

RELEASED FIRST

Some mornings you wake up already holding it: what they said, what they took, what you feel they still owe you. It's there before your feet touch the floor, and it's heavy to carry into a whole day.

Jesus put this line at the centre of the prayer He taught: “Forgive us our debts, as we also forgive our debtors” (Matthew 6:12). He told a story about it too, of a master facing a servant whose debt could never be paid, who “released him and forgave him the debt” (Matthew 18:27). That is what He has done for you, in full. Forgiving them doesn't mean it didn't hurt, or that you have to go back somewhere unsafe. It means the debt is no longer yours to collect.

This morning, say their name to God and tell Him they owe you nothing now. If it's safe, do them one small kindness today, without mentioning what happened.

PRAYER TO CARRY TODAY

PRAYER TO CARRY TODAY

SCRIPTURE

Forgive us our debts, as we also forgive our debtors.

MATTHEW 6:12 (WEB)

A PRAYER FOR TODAY

Lord, I woke up still holding what they owe me. You released me and forgave me in full. Open the gate in me, and let Your mercy run.

PRAYERTOCARRY.COM

