PRAYER TO CARRY TODAY

LOOK HOW FAR HE'S BROUGHT YOU.

Lord, who am I? I didn't climb this on my own. You brought me this far. I'm sitting down just to thank You.

"Who am I, Lord GOD, and what is my house, that you have brought me this far?"
2 SAMUEL 7:18 WEB

prayertocarry.com

PRAYER TO CARRY TODAY

LOOK BACK DOWN THE TRAIL

By evening, what you see first is usually what's left: the unanswered messages, the thing that didn't work, how far you still have to go. It's easy to end the day staring up the mountain.

David had every reason to stare at what he'd lost. God had just told him he would not build the temple he dreamed of. Instead he went in, sat down before the LORD, and looked the other way: who am I, that You have brought me this far? He had been a shepherd boy. Every switchback between the sheep pen and the throne had God's hand on it, and he knew it.

Before you sleep, write down three places today where God carried you, even small ones: a conversation that went better than it could have, strength you didn't expect, a way that opened. Read them back once. That is today's stretch of the trail.

PRAYER TO CARRY TODAY

PRAYER TO CARRY TODAY

PRAYER TO CARRY TODAY

SCRIPTURE

Who am I, Lord GOD, and what is my house, that you have brought me this far?

2 SAMUEL 7:18 (WEB)

A PRAYER FOR TODAY

Lord, I can only see how far there is to go. Turn me around to see the trail You led me up, and with You I'll keep climbing.

PRAYERTOCARRY.COM

