
PRAYER TO CARRY TODAY
HE FILLS
WHAT THE YEARS EMPTIED.
Lord, restore what was eaten. Let it overflow.
"I will restore to you the years..."
JOEL 2:25 WEB
prayertocarry.com

PRAYER TO CARRY TODAY

WHAT THE YEARS EMPTIED

Maybe it was a business that never took off, a stretch of hard work that came to nothing, or years when everything you earned slipped through your fingers. Midday is when it shows: you are working hard and the store still feels empty. That is exhausting.

Joel's people knew it literally. Locusts had eaten their fields, season after season. God didn't tell them to try harder. He promised to restore what the locusts ate, and the verse just before pictures threshing floors full of wheat and vats running over (Joel 2:24). He fills what was emptied, as a giver, not as a wage you have to earn.

PRAYER TO CARRY TODAY

So in the middle of today, do one small thing that only someone being filled can do: give something away. A meal, an hour, a bag of groceries for a neighbour. Empty hands are where He starts.

PRAYER TO CARRY TODAY

PRAYER TO CARRY TODAY

SCRIPTURE

I will restore to you the years...

JOEL 2:25 (WEB)

A PRAYER FOR TODAY

Lord, my hands came back empty for years. Restore what the locusts ate, and fill these hands enough to give.

PRAYERTOCARRY.COM

