PRAYER TO CARRY TODAY

YOU CAN TURN IT ALL OFF. WHAT MATTERS IS STILL HERE.

Lord, I'm switching off the light on a day I didn't finish. The messages I didn't answer are still there. The words I wish I'd said differently are still there. I keep replaying them in the dark. But You say faith remains. Hope remains. Love remains, and it's the greatest. None of it depends on how I did today. So I'm letting the rest go dark. Keep what lasts, and hold me in it while I sleep.

"But now faith, hope, and love remain—these three. The greatest of these is love."

Night is when the day replays. Lying there, you go back over what you didn't get to, what you said, what went wrong. With the light off, it can feel like that's all that's left.

Paul wrote that much of what we lean on will pass away, even the gifts and knowledge people were proudest of. What remains is faith, hope and love, and love is the greatest. None of the three depends on how well you did today. They were given to you, and God is the one who keeps them.

When you switch off the light, name the three, out loud or in your head: faith, hope, love. Then let everything else wait until morning.

A PRAYER FOR TODAY

Lord, the room is dark and my mind is still running. Let faith, hope and love remain here with me, and let everything else wait.
