PRAYER TO CARRY TODAY

YOU FEEL FAR FROM EVERYTHING. HIS HAND IS HOLDING YOU.

Lord, I'm farther out than I meant to be. Even here, Your hand finds me. Lead me home when I wake.

"If I take the wings of the dawn, and settle in the uttermost parts of the sea, even there your hand will lead me, and your right hand will hold me."

PSALMS 139:9-10 WEB

prayertocarry.com

PRAYER TO CARRY TODAY

NEVER TOO FAR OUT

Tonight you might feel far from everything: from home, from the people who know you, from the faith you used to feel sure of, maybe from the person you meant to be. Distance has a way of growing louder in the dark.

The psalm takes the farthest places a person could reach, flying on the wings of the dawn or settling at the far edge of the sea, and says: even there. It doesn't say come back first. Even there His hand leads, and His right hand holds. You can't get far enough out to be beyond His reach, because the reach was never yours to measure.

Before you sleep, put your phone across the room and switch off the light. Picture the farthest place you feel tonight, and rest there knowing you're held. Tomorrow's way can wait for morning; He'll lead you then too.

PRAYER TO CARRY TODAY

SCRIPTURE

If I take the wings of the dawn, and settle in the uttermost parts of the sea, even there your hand will lead me, and your right hand will hold me.

PSALMS 139:9-10 (WEB)

A PRAYER FOR TODAY

Lord, out here the sea is black and wide, and home feels far away. Your right hand reaches even here. Hold me while I sleep.