PRAYER TO CARRY TODAY

THE NOISE WILL STOP.
HIS LOVE WON'T.

Lord, I'm done performing. Still the noise in me. Love me as I am.

"If I speak with the languages of men and of angels, but don't have love, I have become sounding brass or a clanging cymbal."

PRAYER TO CARRY TODAY

WHEN THE SHOW IS OVER

Some days you're on stage from the moment you wake up. Sounding smart in class or at work, sounding fine in the group chat, sounding like you have it together for everyone who's watching. By night the ringing doesn't stop just because the room went quiet.

Paul looked at the most impressive gift he could imagine, speaking every language on earth and in heaven, and said that without love it is only a clanging cymbal. So God is not grading the performance. You were never loved for how you sound. You are loved because He is love, and that was settled long before tonight's show.

So let the cymbal stop ringing. Put your phone face-down, turn the light low and sit for one quiet minute before you sleep. You don't have to say anything clever. Just let yourself be loved.

SCRIPTURE

If I speak with the languages of men and of angels, but don’t have love, I have become sounding brass or a clanging cymbal.

A PRAYER FOR TODAY

Lord, the stage lights are off and I'm tired of being on. Hush the ringing in my head. In Your love I can rest.
